"Calm, well trained dogs who understand the rules and stay within the boundaries that we set, equates to a contented, peaceful and harmonious existence between us and our canine friends"

If you'd like help with your dog's behaviour, give me a call - a quick chat could make all the difference and I'll do my very best to help.

I urge you to pick up the phone or email me. There's no obligation and you may find that the annoying behaviour your dog is presenting can be sorted out with very little effort and bring harmony back into your home.

One home visit can provide solutions to many behavioural problems and I offer obedience and socialisation classes for dogs of any age.

Here's what one very happy client said:

I'm so excited about this that I just had to tell you. I have to go upstairs just now to get something quickly (girls already in bed and Mark out). Digger tried to follow me but I did what you said and sent him back down to the hall and told him to stay - and he did!!!!!! First time ever.

Thank you so much for today, I have already been following your advice and it really makes a difference.

See you Monday and thanks again.

p.s. he also has not been near the table in the TV room since this morning. He is keeping a foot away from it at all times.
